

2016 Fulbright Visiting Scholar Program Announcement

The American Center, U.S. Embassy, Dhaka is pleased to announce the 2016 Fulbright Visiting Scholar awards. These awards are primarily three-to-nine month research grants, beginning in September 2016. One-semester lecturing grants are also available. Lengths of grants can be adjusted based on the availability of funding. Fulbright Visiting Scholar awards are offered to senior Bangladeshi university faculty members and to researchers at think-tanks and relevant governmental and non-governmental organizations to pursue research and possibly to lecture. We seek proposals on a wide range of topics in education (particularly about university administration), social sciences, humanities, environmental sciences, international law (maritime law), agricultural sciences, the arts, hard sciences, and business.

The Fulbright program is intended for highly motivated scholars with advanced degrees (Ph.D.), or professional equivalency who propose to conduct research and/or teach in the fields of their specialization. Candidates must have excellent English language skills to function professionally in an American university setting.

A prospective applicant must submit an online application through the embark online application system. All relevant documents in support of the application also need to be uploaded electronically to the online application. Following is a list of documents that are required:

- A) Three reference letters
- B) Confirmed letter of invitation from a host institution
- C) Correspondence from U.S. institutions, if available
- D) Curriculum Vitae
- E) Passport copies for the applicant and for any and all intending accompanying dependent(s)

The online application is available at <https://apply.embarc.com/student/fulbright/scholars>. Applicants should create a log-in account in order to access the application. Complete instructions on applying to the program are available here. Applicants must read all instructions carefully before completing the application form. Submitted proposals must be detailed and accurately written with an outlined research plan that can be completed during the grant period. The program is highly competitive and the selection committee places great emphasis on the written proposal.

Lecturing grant aspirants must have extensive teaching experience. Teaching experience abroad will be considered as an added qualification. Candidates must submit course syllabi along with curriculum vitae and a confirmed invitation to lecture at a host institution in order to be considered for a Fulbright grant.

This fellowship is meant for Bangladeshi citizens and prospective applicants must be residing in the home country at the time of application. Applicants possessing U.S. permanent residency or citizenship, or in the process of receiving U.S. permanent residency, are not eligible for the award. Due to funding limitations, applicants who have recently received a major U.S. government grant, or have fairly recent significant study abroad experience must wait five years before applying for a senior Fulbright award. In only extremely rare circumstances will an applicant who has previously received a Fulbright Visiting Scholar grant be awarded a second grant.

Grant benefits for the Fulbright Visiting Scholar Program include all related expenses, a stipend and cost of the grantee's Bangladesh/USA/Bangladesh air tickets. The grant also includes a monthly allowance for one dependent only who will spend at least 80% of the grant period with the grantee. If a grantee receives a nine-month grant, a dependent may be eligible to receive an air ticket if she/he remains with the grantee at least 80% of the time. Applicants must return to Bangladesh immediately upon completion of their research or teaching assignments. Upon successful completion of the grant, all grantees are required to report to the American Center and submit their research findings in writing.

The deadline for submitting the online application and all required documents is Sunday, November 15, 2015. After a review of proposals, short-listed candidates will be called to the American Center Dhaka for an interview.
